Any additions to, amendments of, or other changes in such federal regulations are hereby adopted as of their effective date, in accordance with the legislative intent manifest in § 62.1-172 (k), Code of Virginia.

* * *

CHAPTER 30. Safe and Reasonable Operation of Vessels.

R30-1. The following regulations in this chapter apply to the operation of "motorboats" and other "vessels" under way on "waters of this State," as defined in Code of Virginia § 62.1-167; provided that notwithstanding the provisions of any other regulation of this chapter, motorboats under sixty-five feet in length operating in narrow channels shall not interfere with the passage of large, deep-draft vessels which can safely navigate only inside such channels.

* * *

R30-2. When motorboats are approaching each other head and head, that is, end on, or nearly so, it shall be the duty of each to maneuver to starboard and pass on the port side of the other motorboat. This does not apply if the courses of such motorboats are so far on the starboard side of each other that they may pass starboard to starboard without risk of collision.

* * *

R30-3. When two motorboats are crossing, so as to involve risk of collision, the motorboat which has the other on her own starboard side shall keep out of the way of the other.

* * *

R30-4. (a) Every vessel overtaking any other vessel shall keep out of the way of the overtaken vessel, and shall not attempt to pass the vessel ahead until they have reached a point at which it can be safely done. The overtaken vessel shall not attempt to cross the bow or crowd in upon the course of the overtaking vessel.

(b) Every vessel coming up with another vessel from any direction shall the beam of the other vessel shall be deemed to be and overtaking vessel, and no subsequent alteration of the bearing between the two vessels shall make the overtaking vessel a crossing vessel within the meaning of this regulation or relieve her of the duty of keeping clear of the overtaken vessel until she is finally past and clear. When a vessel coming up with another vessel is unable to determine with certainty whether she is forward or abaft the beam of the other vessel she shall, if in doubt, assume that she is an overtaking vessel and keep out of the way of the other vessel.

* * *

R30-5. Sailing vessels have the right of way over motorboats. Motorboats shall keep out of their way, except when a sailing vessel is an overtaking vessel as described in R30-4 (b), in which case the overtaken vessel shall have the right of way; provided that in narrow channels sailing vessels shall not have the right to interfere with the passage of large, deep-draft, less maneuverable vessels which can safely navigate only inside such channels.

* * *

R30-6. When two sailing vessels are approaching one another so as to involve risk of collision, each shall keep out of the way of the other as follows:

(a) When each has the wind on a different side, the vessel which has the wind on the port side shall keep out of the way of the other.

(b) When both the wind on the same side, the vessel which is to windward shall keep out of the way of the vessel which is to leeward.

(c) For the purpose of this regulation the windward side shall be deemed to be the side opposite that on which the mainsail is carried or, in the case of a square-rigged vessel, the side opposite that on which the largest fore-and-aft sail is carried.

* * *

R30-7. Every vessel which is directed by these regulations to keep out of the way of another vessel shall, if circumstances of the case permit, avoid crossing ahead of the other vessel and shall, if necessary, slacken speed, or stop, or reverse, in addition to altering course as necessary to avoid the other vessel; and the other vessel, in circumstances of the case permit, shall not alter course or speed until no further danger of collision exists.

* * *

R30-8. Every motorboat, when approaching or passing vessels underway or lying to or at anchor or made fast to the shore; or when approaching or passing piers, docks, or boathouses; or when approaching or passing persons in the water or using water skis or surfboards, shall slacken speed to the extent necessary to avoid endangering persons or property by the effect of the motorboat's wake.

* * *

R30-9. Where a motorboat operator's vision is obscured by bridges or other obstructions ahead, or by sharp bends in a narrow waterway, or by fog or other weather conditions, the motorboat shall be operated at reduced speed such that the motorboat can be stopped,if necessary, within the distance the operator or a lookout is able to see ahead.

* * *

R30-10. In narrow channels every motorboat shall, when it is safe and practicable, keep to that side of the fairway or mid-channel which lies on the starboard side of such vessel.

* * *

R30-11. In obeying and construing these regulations due regard shall be had to all dangers of navigation and collision, and to any special circumstances which may render a departure from the regulations necessary in order to avoid immediate danger.

* * *

R30-12. Nothing in these regulations shall exonerate the operator of any vessel from the consequences of any neglect to carry and display lights as required by law, or of any neglect to keep a proper lookout; or of neglect of any reasonable precaution which may be required by the ordinary practice of good seamanship, or by the special circumstances of the case.

* * *

R30-13. (a) Whenever motorboats are approaching in a meeting,crossing, or overtaking situation, and it appears desirable to the operator of one of the vessels to communicate his intentions to the operator of the other, the following standard whistle or horn signals will be used, and none other:

(1) One short blast; meaning: "I am altering my course to starboard"; and that in a crossing situation when this signal is initiated by the vessel to starboard of the other it means, "I am holding my course and speed."

(2) Two short blasts;meaning: "I am altering my course to port."

(3) Three short blasts; meaning: "I am stopping, or backing, by applying power astern."

(4) Five or more short blasts in rapid succession; meaning: "DANGER!" or "I do not understand your intentions" or "I do not concur in the maneuver indicated by your signal."

(b) Whenever a Class 1, 2, or 3 motorboat receives one of the above signals from an approaching vessel, and if the operator understands the signal and concurs in the maneuver, he will answer with a similar signal. Whenever the intention of the approaching vessel is unclear, or if the operator misunderstands the signal or does not concurs in the maneuver, he shall answer with a signal of five or more short blasts in rapid succession, whereupon the operators of both vessels will slow, stop, or change course as necessary to avoid collision.

(c) Motorboats not required to have sound-producing devices on board are not required to give or answer horn or whistle signals, but if they have sound-producing devices on board and elect to give or answer signals, the standard signals prescribed in the foregoing rules shall be used, and none other.

* * *

CHAPTER 31. Accident and Casualty Reporting.

R31-1. The regulations contained in this chapter apply to each vessel in use on waters subject to the jurisdiction of the State if such vessel is (1) used by its operator for recreational purposes, or (2) is required to be numbered under the Federal Boat Safety Act of 1971 (85 Stat. 213; 46 U.S.C. 1451, et seq.); and to each vessel in use on the marginal sea adjacent to this State and on the high seas (1) when such vessel is required to be numbered under the Federal Boat Safety Act of 1971 and is en route to or from this State or (2) when such vessel is owned or principally berthed in this State and is used by its operator for recreational purposes.

* * *

R31-2. When, as a result of an occurrence that involves a vessel or its equipment, a person dies or disappears from a vessel, the operator shall, without delay, by the quickest means available, notify the Commission in Richmond, Virginia, or the agent immediately available member of the Commission's law enforcement (game warden) force, of (1) the date, time, and exact location of the occurrence; (2) the name of each person who died or disappeared; (3) the number and name of the vessel; and (4) the names and addresses of the owner and operator. When the operator of a vessel cannot give the notice required by the fore-going, each person on board the vessel shall notify the Commission or a member of its law enforcement force, or determine that the notice has been given.

* * *

R31-3. In addition to the notrunication required by R31-2, the operator of a vessel shall submit a written casualty or accident report to the Commission when, as a result of an occurrence that involves the vessel or its equipment (1) a person dies; (2) a person loses consciousness or receives medical treatment or is disabled for more than twenty-four hours; (3) damage to the vessel and other property amounts to more than one hundred dollars; or (4) a person disappears from the vessel under circumstances that indicate probable death or injury. A written report required by this regulation must be made (1) within forty-eight hours of the occurrence, if no person dies within twenty-four hours of the occurrence; (2) within forty-eight hours of the occurrence if a person loses consciousness or receives medical treatment or is disabled for more than twenty-four hours or disappears from a vessel; and (3) within ten days after the occurrence or death if an earlier report is not required by the foregoing provisions of this regulation. When the operator of a vessel cannot submit the report required by this regulation, he shall submit the required report.

R31-4. Each report required by R31-3 must be in writing, on the appropriate printed form furnished by the Commission, dated upon completion, and signed by the person who prepared it, and must contain, if available, all of the information about the casualty or accident required to complete the form.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our husband and father, Herbert M. Burrell, who died seven years ago, June 15, 1966.

In our heart a memory is kept,
Of one we loved and will never forget.
To see your face and watch you smile,
To sit with you and talk awhile,
To be together the same old way,
Would be our greatest wish today,
We cannot Lord, thy purpose see,
But all is well that's done by Thee,

Wife and Children. 6-14-1p
